“We have a quiet room this year in Office 1 for those who need it.”
Welcome APRIL advocates to beautiful Spokane!
This is APRIL’s 23rd Annual Conference and you are in for one fabulous conference covering the entire range of issues facing all people with disabilities. APRIL leadership is hopeful you will engage in the numerous opportunities provided to you this week to give your voice to these issues and help shape the future.

While we close in on the end of a year of stunning surprises, and mind-numbing decisions by our nation’s policymakers, we strongly encourage you to embrace the energizing power of our community and celebrate our strength and unity. Wrap yourself in the theme of this year’s conference. And celebrate the amazing youth from across the country, which should be enough to jazz up the passion of any IL advocate. But the second half of our conference theme—Indivisible with Liberty and Justice for All!—couldn’t come at a better time to focus our efforts on the daunting work that remains.

Take advantage of all the great knowledge and resources of your peers from across the country. Absorb and share our mutual passion for the free exercise of our civil rights. Learn from each other, celebrate knowledge, embrace the exuberance and emerging leadership of a younger generation, and most importantly—have fun!

But, we also have other work to do while we are together. Today in our nation, there remains a nearly inhumane and appalling lack of affordable, accessible, non-toxic housing, and even more appalling so in rural America. Too many of our brothers and sisters still cannot go where they want to go, when they want to go there. And there remains a persistent and shockingly low rate of participation in the workforce for all people with disabilities.

It’s time to get to work!

Sincerely,

Tim J. Sheehan
Tim J. Sheehan
APRIL Board President
Hello and welcome to the 23rd Annual APRIL Conference: Indivisible With Liberty and Justice for All. As I reflect back on the year that was, I keep hearing the lyrics of a Grateful Dead tune….What a long strange trip its been. Since our last gathering, we’ve had a Presidential election, a healthcare battle, wide-spread natural disasters and another healthcare battle. Those are just a few of the issues on this long strange trip, but a common thread in all of these events has been the united voice of people with disabilities. All disabilities!

We have taken Ben Franklin’s words at the signing of the Declaration of Independence to heart…”we must indeed all hang together, or we will assuredly hang separately.” You, my brothers and sisters, hung together and are to be celebrated for the tremendous work in saving Medicaid, upon which, millions of people’s lives depend. Nothing about us, without us!

Finally, I want to thank all of our sponsors for making this event possible, but most importantly, thank You for being here and all the things you do in your community to enrich the lives of our brothers and sisters with disabilities.

CONFERENCE AGENDA

U.S. Election Assistance Commissioners
We will have a short welcome from Commissioner Matthew Masterson and Commissioner Christy McCormick who will also discuss some special opportunities for you to be involved in improving access to voting for people with disabilities right here at the APRIL Conference.

10:30-12:00 PM  Break, Vendor Fair, US Election Assistance Town Hall
Vendor Fair
All: Stop by the Vendor booths (Vendors listed on page 4) and learn about some great resources and opportunities.
Youth: Don’t forget that this is your opportunity at People Bingo/Candy Crush, test your game playing skills in real time and life! Collect Candies by having the vendor with the matching candy initial your board during the resource fair. Collect 5 candies in a row to be entered into a drawing to win a PRIZE! Once you have completed the board give it to an APRIL Youth Executive Committee Member.

EAC Town Hall — Accessible Voting in Rural America
Vicky Dalton, Commissioner Masterson, Commissioner McCormick
Commissioners from the U.S. Election Assistance Commission and local election officials invite you to join them for a town hall dialogue about voter accessibility in rural America. The Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), provides people with disabilities the right to a private and independent vote. The U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) was established by the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA). It is an independent, bipartisan commission charged with ensuring secure, accurate and accessible elections by developing guidance to meet HAVA requirements, adopting voluntary voting system guidelines, and serving as a national clearinghouse of information on election administration, including products that enhance the voting experience of Americans with disabilities. The EAC also accredits testing laboratories and certifies voting systems, as well as administers the use of HAVA funds. For more information, visit www.eac.gov. As we approach the 15th anniversary of HAVA on October 29, we want to hear from you about your experiences registering to vote, casting your ballot, and interacting with your local election offices. The panel will also provide information about EAC’s work to support voters with disabilities and how your input can help to shape the commission’s efforts. This is an open session, you can stop by any time and be a part of discussion.”

12:00-1:30 PM  Luncheon and Keynote
Join us for a plated lunch in the Ballroom. Remember, special dietary meals are available if you registered for them and your name tag will indicate if you get one of these meals. Any questions? Come see us at registration!

1:00 PM  Keynote: A View from the Inside
Sarah Triano, Director of Policy and Innovation Complex Care, Centene Corp
Triano will share lessons learned from her journey as a participant in the nation’s first Youth Leadership Forum (YLF) for Students with Disabilities in 1992 to becoming the Director of Policy & Innovation for the nation’s largest managed Long-Term Services and Supports (MLTSS) Company in the country. Triano will also share her thoughts on the future of LTSS in America based on her perspective as a person with a disability professionally embedded in the medical model.

CIL Services for Parents with Disabilities

Kimberly Tissot

Parents with disabilities are often viewed as unfit based solely on their disability and are not provided with appropriate family preservation and reunification services and supports that are tailored to their needs. This session provides an overview of applicable laws and federal guidance followed by examples of systemic advocacy efforts and services that CILs can provide to support parents with disabilities.

The Safety Project: Partnering with 13 CILS to Develop an Abuse Prevention Program for People with Intellectual Disabilities

Rosemary Hughes

People with intellectual disabilities are at high risk for abuse. Participants in this workshop will learn about the development and systematic evaluation of a safety program for people in this population. The presenters will share how close partnerships among researchers, people with intellectual disabilities, disability rights activists, and Centers for Independent Living succeeded in developing an IL class that included information and activities related to communication skills, healthy boundaries, the nature and types of abuse, warning signs of abuse, respect and safety in relationships, safety planning, help seeking, and disability rights. The presenters will lead the session by sharing PowerPoint slides that were used by the CIL group leaders, demonstrating role playing and other skill development activities that are used in the program, and facilitating a discussion about the need and feasibility of offering a safety awareness program in CILs.

Advocacy through Video and Social Media

Rooted in Rights - Vilissa Thompson and Clark Matthews

(Youth Focused) When it comes to self-advocacy, few tools pack as much power as video and social media. Staff from the award-winning team at Rooted in Rights share their secrets for how you can take control of the disability narrative - and empower those around you to do the same. HINT: If you have a story and access to a smartphone, you're almost there!

Home Alone or Out and About: Enhancing Usability & Community Participation for All

Dr. Glen White, Lillie Greiman, Hayley Burghart, Dr. Craig Ravesloot

The first step to getting out into the community is facing challenges in your home. In the Home Usability Program, consumers work with an Independent Living Specialist to identify usability problems within their homes and connect with community resources to help find solutions to these problems. By making one’s home not only accessible but more usable, persons with disabilities will be better prepared for engaging in their communities. But, what if getting out and about isn’t so simple? That is where the Out and About program comes into play. This program addresses both environmental and health-related barriers to community participation by providing resources and developing skills in self-advocacy and goal setting.
Join us for an interactive discussion on the Home Usability and Out and About programs that will explore resources and identify creative solutions to addressing barriers both in the home and in the community.

Participants will also have the opportunity to add topics for discussion. CONFERENCE AGENDA

Achieving a Better Life Experience (ABLE) Program
Chris Gagnon
Meeting Room 10

The workshop will educate the disability community about the available opportunities to save and plan for a better economic future and quality of life experience through the establishment of ABLE accounts. New ABLE accounts allow eligible individuals with disabilities to create tax-advantaged savings accounts with contributions of up to $14,000 annually. ABLE allows more individual control over spending and investing, while protecting eligibility for Medicaid, Supplemental Security Income and other means-tested public benefits. Many individuals with disabilities also have mental health issues and a few mental issues qualify for SSI and Medicaid assistance. For those individuals, they are forced into poverty by not exceeding $2k in assets to maintain these benefits (SSI, SNAP, Medicaid, etc.). The ABLE program allows folks to save money, climb out of poverty, while not jeopardizing their benefits. Therefore better quality of life outcomes are anticipated.

Preserving Access and Independence: Understanding Alternatives to Guardianship
Charlie Walters
Meeting Room 11

Many in the IL world may not be fully aware that the rate of people with disabilities being placed under guardianship has tripled in the last 20 years (TASH, 2015). In many cases, people's rights are being taken from them in “their best interest” without a full understanding of other options available for support. Without a robust awareness of the issues at hand, Centers for Independent Living are at risk of missing opportunities to support adults with disabilities in preserving their rights. The facilitator of this session will discuss the ethical and research-based underpinnings for the importance of autonomy and independence, detail the growing momentum behind Supported Decision Making and other alternatives to guardianship, and describe what guardianship entails. Content will be delivered through lecture with an open-ended invitation for question and comment and short videos with closed captioning and ASL accompaniments.

Be Loud Be Proud: Youth Making a Difference
Joan LaBelle and Ian Engle
Meeting Room 12

(Youth Focused) Interactive workshop on youth engagement, our history, importance of activism, different types of systems advocacy. How to be loud and proud and a voice for people with disabilities.

1:30-3:00 Concurrent Workshops Begin

Disability Integration: How to get involved in the Emergency World
Jerry Rieener
Meeting Room 1

Navigating the emergency management world can be overwhelming. In this workshop the Idaho State Independent Living Council will share how we developed our position within local and statewide emergency preparedness including: lessons learned, suggestions for engagement with various emergency management groups, and how you can help the world of emergency management implement inclusive practices in your community’s emergency preparedness plans.
CONFERENCE AGENDA

BluePath.org: Good Access is Good Business
Mark Leeper

Originally launched in 2006 by NW ADA Center, BluePath.org has gained traction to compete with websites such as TripAdvisor and Yelp! by providing complete, detailed information on accessible businesses to people with disabilities. Designed to be business friendly and start the process of getting more businesses in a community to be accessible, it’s looking for Pathfinders who are ready to promote their favorite accessible businesses. Learn how to do a Quick Look ADA survey and market accessible businesses in your community.

Asking Questions Leads to Solutions: Tools for Today and Tomorrow
Tracy Boehm, Kerry Morse, Lauren Smith, Dr. Catherine Ipsen, Tannis Hargrove, Meg Tracy, Maggie Lawrence, Andrew Myers

We all want tools, resources, and solutions to make our participation in community life the best it can be. Do you ever wonder where the ideas for tools and resources come from? Asking the right questions to explore and solve rural problems and then testing tools to address those problems is part of what RTC:Rural does. This session starts with an overview of several tools and resources you can use today, including a new website designed to help you easily find rural disability resources, a toolkit to creatively engage consumers in advocacy, and more. Then, we will share some “hot off the press” information that we are learning in our current projects and that we think you will be interested in knowing such as how often rural people with disabilities move to a more urban location or how rural people feel like they fit in their rural communities. We also have some important questions for you that will help us continue to make our work relevant to the needs of rural folks across the country. Please join the discussion to help develop the tools of today and shape the tools for tomorrow!

Taking Charge, Increasing Functional Independence
Heather Bahme

A TBI occurs every 9 seconds in the US. While most are told they will “recover” 10-15% will have chronic symptoms that can be life altering. Little can be done about the injury but a great deal can be done to empower the individual to take control of their symptom management. Attendees will earn how to recognize a TBI and simple techniques to assist in the management of symptoms that cross over from TBI to behavioral health, chronic pain and Mental Health.

Be a Friend Festival
Lillian Burch, Amanda Blake, Kevin Fugate

Due to the recent anti-racism, anti-disability, anti-semitism, anti-muslim actions in this country, it is important to advocate for all people to be friends. This annual festival is a community wide effort for our children to promote positive relationships especially with minority groups: people with disabilities, different races, ethnicities, religions, genders, LGBTQ, etc. We collaborated with local minority groups and service providers to provide kid friendly activities and sought partners for resources. Fun activities, entertainment, etc. were provided. We will share start up, slides from event, materials, etc. Participants will get tools to recreate it in their CIL.

Safe Travels, and See You Next Year in Denver, Colorado!
CELEBRATE, HONOR, AND REMEMBER OUR COLLEAGUES

LINDA GONZALES AWARD
Linda Gonzales was the first Executive Director of APRIL for more than 20 years, and truly was a visionary when it came to including youth with disabilities as leaders in the rural Disability Rights and Independent Living Movement and more specifically the APRIL youth movement. We are proud to announce this year’s Linda Gonzales Award for outstanding Rural Youth:

Emily Robinson

Emily Robinson is an up and comer in the IL Youth movement. She began as a new member of the West Virginia SILC, and since has gotten involved with her university as President of the West Virginia State University Student Access Advocates program, has been a volunteer at the Mountaineers Summer Camps, a part of the NCIL Youth Caucus, the APRIL youth committees, and has been a Peer Educator at WVSU. Emily volunteers for Community Gardens of the Girl Scouts Black Diamond Council, and still finds time to be a full time student and live independently while attaining her degree in Special Education.

Emily helped develop the Day of Activities About Inclusion and Respect at WVSU, which included activities and presentations as a collaboration between Student Access Advocates, Disability Services, SILC, and the Fair Shake Network to promote inclusion and awareness of people with disabilities. Emily has presented at the APRIL Conference for two years now, and also presented at the Student Affairs Administration in Higher Education Conference. She is currently working on creating a course at WVSU Steps 2 Success to ensure students with disabilities have access and success inside and outside the classroom.

Emily Robinson has a soft spot in our hearts, as she always has a thoughtful comment, a smile, and a helping hand, no matter where you meet her. It has been an honor for us to watch her grow these last few years, and a privilege to continue to watch her grow into an advocate to be reckoned with.

EARL WALDEN AWARD
In the early days of APRIL, Earl was a great friend and supporter of our new organization. As a colleague who worked at ILRU (Independent Living Research Utilization) in Houston, Earl had a heart as big as Texas and a gift for finding resources or solutions to problems. He took APRIL under his wing when we needed an advocate on our side. It is our honor to announce this year’s Earl Walden Award for Outstanding Achievement in Rural Advocacy:

Mike Mayer

Mike Mayer is the Executive Director for Summit Independent Living Center in Missoula, MT. He was one of the original APRIL members and President of APRIL from 1991-1997. Mike has remained an APRIL member through Summit since that time. Mike started his Summit career in 1985 and has been Executive Director since 1988.

Mike has promoted the IL mission of advancing independence and civil rights of people with disabilities for over 32 years. He started working at Summit in Missoula’s main office and maintains three rural county offices in Flathead, Lake and Ravalli Counties. One of his favorite IL philosophy principles is the balance of rights and responsibilities. He believes that each individual’s choice and accountability will make their collective community’s better and stronger in the future.

Mike has lead the way for a variety partnerships to develop locally in Montana as well as nationally. He continues to advocate and improve access both physically and programmatically. He demonstrates pride and leadership at the Montana Legislative Sessions and Rallies that support the IL history, movement, and cultural needs such as the ADA and ACA. He continues to speak out about the attacks on these important civil and human rights laws.

It would be impossible to name all the accomplishments Mike has achieved or the people he has mentored over the years. He has been instrumental in creative transportation solutions in rural areas, sat on countless councils to bring the voice of the disability community, and has been and continues to be a leader and visionary in the Montana IL network. Mike is innovative and looking for new ideas to support and grow. For example, he partnered with Glen White of the Kansas RTC/IL and Tom Seekins of the University of Montana Rural Institute by using the consumer assessment and satisfaction tool that they developed to determine the major needs for people with disabilities. Over the years Mike has used a version of this tool in Summit’s rural counties to gain insight, problem solve and set annual goals.

Mike is a believer in the strength of the disability community, and the idea that helping a CIL across the country can only mean a stronger CIL at home in Missoula. Summit’s support of programs such as APRIL youth mentoring have led to dozens of CILS gaining help starting programs for youth with disabilities.

Inclusion of the youth movement into IL and Disability Rights has always been a goal of Mike’s. Under his leadership, staff have been able to start and maintain creative youth programs such as BALLS (Building Advocacy and Learning Leadership Skills) a youth based curriculum to aid in leadership and transition and BASE, a community center for youth with and without disabilities, and many more.

Whether he is tirelessly advocating at home for access to programs like personal care assistance, or working with CILS across the country to grow their programs, Mike whole-heartedly encompasses the spirit of the Earl Walden award and is truly an Outstanding Advocate

HONORING TOM SEEKINS

“Dr. Tom Seekins was one of the very first people I met when I began my work with APRIL. I owe him a huge debt of gratitude. He, along with Dr. Devea Kasnitz and Linda Gonzales wrote our Rural Transportation Demonstration grant through the Department of Education which allowed APRIL to finally hire staff i.e. me!! Tom is such a genuine and gentle soul. His soft spoken manner and kind face represent home to many of us. He is not only a steadfast supporter of APRIL but a trusted and respected voice and scholar in the Rural Independent Living field and for People with Disabilities as a whole. His dedicated life’s work has helped us all understand the distribution of people with disabilities throughout our country and our communities and also highlights the continuing struggles that people with disabilities in Rural America deal with in trying to access services. His contributions are invaluable.

Tom Seekins is the kind of person you would want around in a crisis. He has a calming effect and a grounding energy that is so valuable and rare. It has been my sincere honor to have worked with him for 17 years. I am a better, more thoughtful person because of it.” Elissa Ellis, Director Operations, APRIL.
“The impact of Dr. Seekins’ career has been felt by many, most of whom do not know his name. Over the past four decades, people with disabilities who would have been isolated at home have gotten out using a Transportation Voucher system developed by Dr. Seekins. They have started small businesses based on vocational rehabilitation policy and training programs developed by Dr. Seekins and they have avoided serious illness due to health promotion programs they learned from programs he developed. Every day, thousands of rural adults with disabilities receive services from agencies that recognize the importance and uniqueness of rural environments thanks to their membership in the Association of Programs for Rural Independent Living, an organization Dr. Seekins was instrumental in developing. The lives of these people would be very different were it not for the career of Dr. Tom Seekins. Few people have the opportunity to see science in action making the world a better place as I have over these past 28 years.” Dr. Craig Ravesloot

“It was one of my first conferences at the CDC and the retiring director of the CDC’s Disability and Health Branch, Larry, was getting ready to give his farewell presentation to a packed room. He had painstakingly put together tons of photos of funded states, projects, colleagues, and community partners from over the years to share with everyone. Pulling this type of PPT together was quite a feat 15 years ago, and of course, there were technical issues when the time came to project the slides. There was a lot of build up to this retirement presentation so when the technology failed, it felt like, ‘now what’? Everyone just looked at Larry with blank faces; the silent response to his request for help was palpable. Then Tom gets up and walks to the front quietly and in his suit and cowboy boots proceeds to crawl under the table to work on the computer/projector set up. Not a word seemed to pass between the two. I remember a silent exchange of trust and appreciation. Larry visibly relaxed as Tom approached. Larry told marvelous stories about his tenure with the program while Tom worked silently under the table to reconnect cords and get the PPT working. As Tom walked quietly back to his seat, I thought of my German teacher’s explanation of the word, ‘mensch’— a simple translation is ‘person’ but there is no simple translation for when someone is purposefully called a ‘mensch’. It is about recognizing someone to admire, someone with a rare blend of honor, integrity, dependability, and realness—someone who is striving to fulfill the potential of being human-- ‘you’ll know a mensch when you see one’, my teacher had said. In that moment, I understood. Since then, there are countless memories I have like this, and I may even be beginning to understand the moral foundation from which he operates—but above all, Tom is incredibly kind and supportive—and always, if he can, will have your back. He’s a real mensch”. Meg Ann Traci, PhD

We hope that this next chapter in your life is surrounded by family and full of joy and love. You will always be an intricate part of the APRIL fabric and our history. We will miss working with you tremendously, Tom. Best of luck to you in your retirement! Thanks for all you have done. Join us at the Awards Banquet in honoring Tom Seekins work, wishing him well, and sharing your favorite Tom Story. ~The APRIL Family
Most of you likely have spoken to her on the phone, or received an email from her, or way back in the day, faxed Dawn Heinsohn at least once! She is a treasure trove of information and resources on the latest happenings with the IL-NET. Dawn has maintained the directory of CILs and SILCs since 1989, and remembers when corrections were made and printed in ILRU Insights. She was part of the team that received hard copies of the 704 reports and was in charge of compiling that data! She has been a part of the publication teams with Bob Michaels, Patricia Yeager, June Kailes and Steve Brown. Dawn was involved in the team that pulled together the first SILC Congress in Houston, Texas. She worked alongside Marilyn Golden on the ADA Handbook of the Disability Rights Education and Defense Fund (DREDF) back in 1992. She maintains volumes of participant information for all the online courses, and supports all the technical assistance requests and correspondence that comes to ILRU via ilru@ilru.org.

Richard Petty said, "Her friendly countenance and dedication to the promotion of the services ILRU offers has enhanced ILRU’s reputation and opened the doors to many productive relationships. Dawn is truly committed to ensuring ILRU offers useful products and supports to the organizations ILRU serves...Dawn's dry sense of humor buoys the spirits of her team and other colleagues. She has always been there for her ILRU friends and partners."

Dawn has been a staple at ILRU and as a part of the IL-NET team for 27 years. The APRIL family wishes her health, happiness, and relaxation in her retirement years.
IN MEMORY OF BRIAN ATWELL

Brian Mark Atwell, 56, died Friday, September 1, 2017 at his brother and sister-in-law’s home in Hays, KS.

He was born May 15, 1961 in Ransom, Kansas the son of Merritt Charles and Thelma Janice (Stutz) Atwell. He attended elementary and middle schools in Utica and graduated from Utica High School in 1979. He received his Associate’s Degree in Business from Garden City Community College and his Bachelor’s Degree in Business Administration from Fort Hays State University.

Brian was the Director of Living Independently in Northwest Kansas (LINK, Inc.) for twenty-seven years and was on State and National Advocacy Committees for improving the lives of those with disabilities.

He has advocated with the Kansas Legislators in Washington, D.C., the Kansas Legislature, Hays Chamber of Commerce, and numerous other groups for changes in policy impacting the lives of individuals with disabilities. Growing up on the farm led him to a great work ethic and compassion for others.

Brian was an important part of APRIL. It is difficult to track down exactly when he first started with APRIL, but in 2000 when APRIL received a Department of Education grant to start a transportation voucher program for people with disabilities in Rural America (and hire staff), LINK handled our Payroll. Brian also served on the APRIL Board for 3 terms from 2007 – 2012.

Brian attended nearly every APRIL Conference. Our registrations show he registered for Conferences between 2003 – 2015! He was a constant and ardent supporter of APRIL and his face at the APRIL Conferences was a constant and familiar one. He was a wonderful, kind and level headed guy. He will be missed by the APRIL family.

The family encourages donations in Brian’s memory to the Brian Atwell Memorial Scholarship for youth endeavors, in care of Hays Memorial Chapel Funeral Home, 1906 Pine Street. He liked to “pay it forward” to better his community and America. Condolences may be left for the family at www.haysmemorial.com

Prior to joining Centene, Triano served in California Governor Jerry Brown’s administration as a disability policy advisor to the Secretaries of the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency and Health and Human Services Agency.

Triano was a student participant at the first annual California Youth Leadership Forum for High School Students with Disabilities in 1992, and from there went on to become the Program Director at Access Living of Metropolitan Chicago and the Executive Director of the Silicon Valley Independent Living Center. She co-founded the nation’s first annual Disability Pride Parade in Chicago and has spoken before the United Nations Conference of State Parties to the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

Triano earned her bachelor’s degree from the University of California, Santa Barbara and participated in the PhD Program in Disability Studies at the University of Illinois at Chicago.

Dustin Gibson is a Black Disabled community builder that works to undo ableism and racism by operating through a framework of Disability Justice. He currently serves as the Director of Independent Living Services at the Center for Independent Living of South Central Pennsylvania. Dustin is a co-founder of the disability-led organization, Disability Advocates for Rights and Transition (DART) that works on issues “for the people, by the people”. He also serves on the board of directors for the National Council on Independent Living, constructs curriculum with the Association of Programs for Rural Independent Living (APRIL) and has worked as a consultant with the National Center on Disability and Aging. He provides peer mentoring services as an adviser to APRIL’s Youth Peer-to-Peer mentoring program and is a member of the United States Attorney’s Office for the Western District of Pennsylvania’s Crisis Team and Community Police Relations Group. He provides political education by developing workshops, webinars, discussions and presentations. He also works alongside several community members and grassroots organizations to eliminate police brutality, support students with disabilities and disrupt the school to prison pipeline.
Vilissa Thompson LMSW is the founder and CEO of Ramp Your Voice!, an organization that promotes self-advocacy and empowerment among people with disabilities. Vilissa is a Licensed Master Social Worker from Winnsboro, SC. As a disability rights consultant, writer, and advocate, Vilissa is a prominent leader and expert in addressing and educating the public and political figures about the plight of people with disabilities, especially women of color with disabilities. She has been featured in the Huffington Post, NY Times, Buzzfeed, Bitch Media, Upworthy, Black Girl Nerds, and The Atlantic, among others. Vilissa created the #DisabilityTooWhite viral hashtag that addressed the lack of diversity within the disability community and how a lack of representation impacts disabled people of color and their ability to feel fully included and accepted within the community. She also established the Black Disabled Woman Syllabus, a resource that has garnered much attention and praise from those within academia and the disabled community for its focus on the experiences of a very underrepresented group. Vilissa is the co-host of the Wheelin' & Dealin' podcast, which dissects politics from an intersectional lens.

In addition to her advocacy work, she is the Digital Manager for Rooted in Rights, where she assists the creative production team in developing content that hones in on the issues that are pertinent to the disability community. In 2017, she was elected to the NCIL Board as a Member-At-Large, and she is co-partner of DisabledWriters.com, a resource that helps editors connect with disabled writers and journalists.

Tim J. Sheehan
Tim J. Sheehan is Executive Director of the Center for Independent Living for Western Wisconsin, current President of the Governing Board of the Association of Programs for Rural Independent Living (APRIL), Chair of the National Advocacy Committee, the past Region 5 Representative to the NCIL Governing Board, 4- year Chair of the Wisconsin Coalition of Independent Living Centers and a three time member of the Wisconsin SILC. For nearly 30 years, Tim has been an active advocate, promoting the rights of people with disabilities to live independently and to be active participants in community life. He is a founding member of the Western Wisconsin Area Consortium on Transportation now known as the Western Wisconsin Transportation Coordination Committee.

Lauren Smith
Lauren Smith is a Knowledge Translation and Research Associate for the RTC:Rural, and works on both Knowledge Translation and Employment projects. She has a B.A. in both English and zoology from Ohio Wesleyan University, and a Master’s of Science in Environmental Studies with a writing focus from the University of Montana. Lauren has worked on a variety of projects with the RTC:Rural, including the Advocacy Skill Building Toolkit and the VR Self-Employment Guide. She regularly produces written and multi-media content about all of the RTC:Rural research projects. Before she joined the RTC:Rural she worked as a field biologist studying birds, and has handled birds ranging in size from hummingbirds to swans. She doesn’t have a favorite bird, but thinks saw-whet owls are pretty darn cute.

Molly Spence
Molly Spence is a 25 year old blogger and writer from Hurricane, West Virginia. She has been a writer for a little over two years, and most recently was appointed to the West Virginia Statewide Independent Living Council in July 2017. Molly’s experience at the APRIL conference is her first as part of the council and she is looking forward to the conference and beginning her journey in youth advocacy for those with disabilities.

Greg Sublett
Greg Sublett has lived in Bend, Oregon for sixteen years. Since 2013, Greg has been the Director of Independent Living at Abilitree, helping individuals grow abilities towards independence. Before working at Abilitree, Greg worked ten years for Bend LaPine School District serving as a Special Education Life Skills Teacher, and Educational Support Staff for Students with disabilities. It was an honor for Greg to work with students through the IEP process as he clearly remembered himself who experiences a disability, sitting in many IEP meetings, working through how best to succeed in school. It was this experience that steered Greg toward a peer based model, which is expressed in Independent Living services. As an individual who has a disability the Independent Living philosophy has been a powerful concept to Greg and to the lives he sees at Abilitree. To see individuals who come to Abilitree, sometimes in crises, become empowered to live life and give back to others as peers has been one of the most rewarding parts of his job.

Sheila Thomas
Sheila Thomas has been Executive Director of Lane Independent Living Alliance (LILA) since 2008, joining as Assistant Director in 2007. After obtaining a Master’s Degree in Gerontology, she spent time as Director of an Adult Protective Services program in Illinois, before moving to Eugene to be close to family. Sheila is Vice President of the Association of Oregon Centers for Independent Living (AOCIL) and a member of the Oregon State Independent Living Council.

Kimberly Tissot
Kimberly Tissot is the Executive Director of Able SC where she guides staff in applying the Independent Living Philosophy to real situations. Kimberly holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Human Development from the Wheelock College in Boston, MA and a Master of Social Work from the University of South Carolina. Kimberly has developed several innovative independent living programs to reach all populations as well as developed an international program to promote disability rights. Kimberly is committed to disability rights advocacy and most recently ABLE SC’s efforts resulted in the passing of progressive legislation in South Carolina, “Persons with Disabilities Right to Parent Act”. Oh, and Kimberly is also a proud parent with a disability!

W. Kirt Toombs
W. Kirt Toombs is the cofounder and Chief Executive Officer for Eastern Oregon Center for Independent Living (EOCIL). Kirt is also the founder of the Institute for Disability Studies and Policy. Kirt is one of the original founders, and currently serves on the board of directors, of the Association of Oregon Centers for Independent Living (AOCIL). Kirt is an alumnus of the University of San Francisco (USF) where he earned his Master of Management and Disability Services. Kirt has also studied at numerous universities including the University of Ireland International Disability Law and Policy.

Meg Ann Traci
Meg Ann Traci is a senior scientist at the University of Montana Rural Institute with expertise in both early childhood and life-span development. Her research has been committed to improving the health of persons with disabilities. She has extensive experience in grant writing, having developed and sustained a productive program of research, development, and systems change in health promotion for over 20 years.

Charlie Walters
Charlie Walters is the Director of Transition Programs at Able South Carolina, a Center for Independent Living. Charlie began his career in museum education and moved from there to working in outdoor education, including adaptive rock climbing. Before coming to Able SC, he served as the Employment Specialist for a college-based program for young adults with intellectual disabilities. Charlie holds a Master’s of Special Education with an emphasis in transition from the University of South Carolina. At the center of his work is his conviction that all of the supports in the world mean nothing to a person if they are not empowered to step into the driver’s seat in directing their lives.

Denise Wardle
Denise Wardle, Executive Director for T.A.R.P. Center for Independent Living is dedicated to the IL philosophy. She succeeded her brother Bob Leonard as Exec-

Dora Warman

Dora Warman, Programs Director for T.A.R.P. Center for Independent Living came from a supported living background, but always believed a person should be what they dream themselves to be. Dora has been with T.A.R.P. just less than two years and thoroughly enjoys being an advocate, and teaching self-advocacy. She is a vivid speaker and teacher, and is passionate about what she speaks.

Jim Whalen

Jim Whalen—Executive Director Blue Water CIL of “The Thumb” Born at a relatively young age, and captured by a herd of Catholic Sisters of “Mercy”, I learned quickly that one should not take one’s accomplishments or failings too seriously. Achieving a B.A. an MS and an Ed.S degree in communications, rehabilitation counseling, higher ed. admin. and personnel management I have followed an educational path of learning more and more about less and less content -eventually I will know everything about nothing at all. Seriously, I have 35 years experience as a civil rights and disability culture advocate. Along the way I have learned a great deal about organizational leadership, program evaluation, and building youth services. However many titles I have acquired my job is to listen, learn, apply sarcasm and wisdom when possible to support the efforts of all people creating real choices that build communities that work so that people with disabilities can lead full and exciting lives.

Glen W. White, Ph.D.

Glen W. White, Ph.D., has been involved in the rehabilitation and independent living field for over 30 years. He currently directs the Research and Training Center on Independent Living at the University of Kansas and serves as Principal Investigator of the NIDILRR-funded Research and Training Center on Community Living. Dr. White has had numerous opportunities to work with consumers with disabilities in identifying, developing and shaping on-going disability research. For the past several years he has been developing a systematic line of research in the area community participation of people with disabilities. Other research interests include prevention of secondary health conditions, and disaster planning and emergency response for people with disabilities. On an international level, Dr. White has conducted research and training activities in Korea, Japan and Vietnam, and prevention of secondary health conditions in Peru. He is past president of the National Association of Rehabilitation Research and Training Centers, past chair of the American Public Health Association’s Section on Disability, and currently serves as Secretary of the United States International Council on Disability. Dr. White is a Professor in the Department of Applied Behavioral Science and directs the Research Group on Rehabilitation and Independent Living at the University of Kansas.

Portlight & The Partnership for Inclusive Disaster Strategies

Portlight Inclusive Disaster Strategies and the Partnership for Inclusive Disaster Strategies are committed to equal access and full inclusion for the whole community before, during and after disasters.

Portlight is the only national organization with a specific mission to address the disaster relief needs of people with disabilities. The Partnership's mission is advocacy, public policy and community organizing. The Partnership offers grassroots solutions and supports to keep expanding disability stakeholder participation to improve the quality and capacity of local leadership to achieve universal accessibility, equal access and full inclusion throughout emergency preparedness, response, recovery and mitigation.

We are grateful for APRIL’s active membership and leadership in our initiatives to ensure that emergency preparedness and disaster response, recovery and mitigation are inclusive of the equal access requirements of rural Americans with disabilities. and we celebrate the important contributions of your members in advancing the rights and responsibilities of people with disabilities in rural America.

The RTC on Promoting Interventions for Community Living joins APRIL in celebrating a world that is:

INDIVISIBLE

with Liberty and Justice for ALL!

We’re exploring the best ways for people with disabilities to modify their home environments and enhance their personal skills in order to increase their community participation.

Our researchers are building on two evidence-based interventions to make them even more effective. We’ll collaborate with CILs and consumers to test these strategies:

- Home Usability – Participation begins at home. In this project, people with disabilities work with their local CIL and other community resources to self-assess and improve the usability of their homes.

- Out and About – People with disabilities learn a variety of ways to set goals, overcome barriers, and build social networks so they can participate more fully in their communities.

We are pleased to announce that the IL-NET has been refunded

The IL-NET national training and technical assistance project for centers for independent living (CIL-NET) and statewide independent living councils (SILC-NET) is operated by the Independent Living Research Utilization (ILRU) Program at TIRR Memorial Hermann in partnership with the National Council on Independent Living (NCIL), the Association of Programs for Rural Independent Living (APRIL), and Utah State University Center for Persons with Disabilities. APRIL operates the IL Conversations, a free series of training teleconferences for those in IL, as well as the mentoring programs, and information and referrals for those in the IL field. The Peer to Peer Mentoring program is an opportunity for SILCs and CILS to receive good old fashion peer support from other professionals in the field. New this funding cycle, we are adding a Youth Mentoring component as well as the opportunity for offsite mentoring, where the CIL or SILC seeking support can travel to the mentor’s site for training if it aligns with their goals better than having the mentor travel to their site. All of these opportunities have both full scholarship opportunities through the IL-NET grant and fee for service. For more information, contact Mary Olson mary.olson@mso.umt.edu.
